

LOOK and FEEL BETTER... Now!

How Swiss Cellular Therapy Can Lead to a Vibrant Life in 2017 and Beyond.

A brochure sat on Dr. Jocelyn Eberstein's desk for several weeks before she gave it serious attention. This pamphlet was about a Swiss cell therapy that claimed to revitalize cells in the human body, increase energy, combat chronic pain, and help improve overall health.

"I get a lot of material about so-called wonder treatments, so I tend to be skeptical about everything," says Dr. Eberstein, founder of the eCenter in Los Angeles. The center specializes in personalized health management programs that combine therapeutic treatments with the latest research and scientifically based approaches. "I don't know why I didn't just throw out the brochure, but the claims were intriguing and the results were based on firm scientific ground. So one day, I decided to put Celergen to the test and ordered a box."

A few days later her order arrived. That evening, Dr. Eberstein took two capsules of Celergen, which is now available in the United States after 30 years of research. Its key ingredient is DNA extracted from deep-sea marine life, and other ingredients include Peptide E Collagen, which reinforces skin elasticity, and Hydro MN Peptide, which rejuvenates joint cartilage.

While some users of Celergen notice results within the first month, Dr. Eberstein felt the positive effects immediately. "Throughout the night, I felt it pulsing through my body, but it was very soothing, so I was able to enjoy a good night's sleep. It was similar to when you do acupuncture and open an energy pathway. It was like I was getting an acupuncture treatment in the middle of the night," she says. "Come morning, I woke up refreshed and ready to go. I knew something good was definitely happening."

This initial experience came during a particularly stressful time in Dr. Eberstein's life. She had been sleeping terribly for months and often woke up feeling nauseous. When she would arrive at her practice, she often felt tired and not as engaged as she would like to be. But after taking Celergen, all that turned around over the next several days. In addition, after studying her lab results before and after taking Celergen, Dr. Eberstein noticed that her low white blood cell count had improved remarkably in addition to her other numbers across the board.

"The icing on the cake was when friends and patients began remarking: 'You look great. What did you have done?' " she says. "That's when I knew I was on to something."

Dr. Eberstein has since recommended Celergen to patients who suffer from a variety of maladies and chronic ailments. "I've only had one patient choose not to continue. That's how effective and life-changing Celergen can be."

Celergen Holds the Promise for a Healthy New Year

Around this time of year in Chicago – early winter – Dr. Michael Hytros often meets with patients who feel worn out and depressed.

"It's perfectly understandable – they live in Chicago and are facing months of awful weather. There's plenty to feel depressed about," says Dr. Hytros, a board-certified physician in family, internal, and bariatric medicine. "More and more I recommend they give Celergen a try. When the bad weather sets in, it can act like the best antidepressant and mood stabilizer without any side effects."

Like Dr. Eberstein in Los Angeles, Dr. Hytros tried Celergen for himself before introducing it to his practice. "I woke up in the morning full of energy, which hadn't been the case in a long time. Plus, I had a clear mind without the brain fog that tends to set in as I've grown older," says Dr. Hytros.

That was two years ago, and since then Dr. Hytros has witnessed Celergen's effectiveness on many patients. One, a 58-year-old man with chronic back problems and muscle spasms, had gained an inordinate amount of weight as a result of his inactivity. One of his doctors recommended back surgery. Since the thought of that made him feel even worse, Dr. Hytros suggested he try Celergen.

"Within a couple of weeks, the pain and depression had left him. He felt so much better that he stopped all medication. After a few months he had lost 25 pounds and looked 10 to 15 years younger than when I had first seen him," says Dr. Hytros. "And now, there's no need for back surgery."

Dr. Hytros has many patients who suffer from chronic fatigue and has long recommended a regimen of Vitamin D-3. He now recommends they add a daily capsule of Celergen. He also makes similar recommendations for patients suffering from diabetes, metabolic diseases, and numerous other afflictions.

"I can't begin to explain why it works. I'll leave that to the researchers. All I know is that it does work and it works differently for everyone who tries it," he says. "In the human body, all our systems are connected, and Celergen seems to support and invigorate every system."

The Next Big Thing for Those Seeking Optimal Health and Beautiful Skin

With a practice based in looks-conscious Los Angeles, Dr. Eberstein sees her fair share of patients who work in the film industry and who are committed to fighting the aging process with any and all tools available.

"We don't do Botox or fillers or any of that, but lots of my patients have had those treatments, along with countless kinds of cosmetic surgeries," says Dr. Eberstein. "I suggest that they try Celergen for a few months before going under the knife again or undergoing other invasive cosmetic treatments. In terms of anti-aging treatments, Celergen can be just as effective at turning back the biological clock without the pain or side effects," she says.

"It's great to be able to live to 80, 90, 100, or beyond, but what good is it if there's no quality of life with it?" says Dr. Eberstein. "Celergen can provide an answer for making our lives as good as they can possibly be."

"Within a few weeks of taking Celergen, I noticed an overall increased energy level during my rigorous daily schedule along with less joint and muscle aches. My focus and mental clarity has also improved. In addition, my skin texture and elasticity has improved with my face and neck looking firmer and tighter."

"I was skeptical as to whether we would see much in the way of results, but after three months a subsequent MRI found bona fide cartilage growth in the afflicted area. Where the cartilage had once been thinning, there was now a substantial increase in volume. It was remarkable."
